The vital importance of Brazil's base of natal to western hemisphere defense is explained in the following article by International News Service Correspondent Lee Van Atta. It is the sixth in a series of seven articles written after a 15,000 mile aerial tour of Latin America.

NATAL, BRAZIL, Dec. 10—(INS)

Natal, known intimately to a million American airmen in World War Two, is still a key base in the overall scheme of western hemisphere defense.

For this strategic stub on the northern chin of Brazil commands the southern air and sea approaches to Africa and to Southern Europe. As long as there is a danger of commercial airliners ply the lanes between the eastern and western hemispheres, Natal is an invaluable geographical asset to the U. S. and to Brazil.

In the Grim days of 1942 and 1943, Natal was the staging point for the American fighters and bombers being rushed into the Middle East and Africa to support the drive against Rommel.

Throughout much of the war—because of its favorable weather and wind conditions—the Natal route was the best to be found into England and Europe itself.

Today, the axis of American defense planning centers on the so-called Arctic or polar concept; the northerly course via Labrador and Iceland into Europe. But the U. S. has had previous experience in having its vital, far-flung bases cut off by an enemy and it is taking no chances this time.

Natal became a Brazilian base shortly after war's end. Actually, however, its value to the common cause has never been decreased. America gave up its temporary ownership, lock, stock and all equipment, to Brazil. Brazil, in turn, is keeping Natal as a first-rate military base.

Remove 60% of Fly-Ash

In Quakertown Borough

QUAKERTOWN, Dec. 10 — That 60 percent of the fly-ash which has proved such a problem in this borough has been removed, was welcome news at the meeting of Quakertown borough council Wednesday evening. Walter Unangst presided.

Russell Boorse, chairman of the electric light committee said that the situation of the fly-ash coming from the new boiler stack, was pretty well in hand.

Chairman Boorse also reported a 50 day supply of coal on hand and said the committee will shortly advertise for bids for a new coal contract for 1950. Mr. Boorse, who is also chairman of the park committee, announced that the skating rink in Memorial Park had been filled with water for the children of the community to enjoy. A planting of 100 trees of assorted varieties, he also reported, is being placed in the park at this time.

Frank Schuman, representing the residents of Lane and West Broad streets, presented a petition to council, asking a reconsideration of the proposed installation of parking meters in that section of town. The matter was taken under advisement, with the burgess and the police committee to have a meeting with the petitioners sometime this month. A definite recommendation will then be brought up at the next meeting of the council.

A hearing was also held on a change of the zoning ordinance, which had been advertised, and since no objections were offered, the change was sanctioned giving a commercial rating to the section along the West End Boulevard, between Main and Eleventh streets, which had formerly been classified as residential.

MORRISVILLE BOY IS STRUCK BY AUTO

Ronald Mead, 6, Critically
Injured While Crossing
Pennsylvania Ave.

POSSIBLE FRACTURE

MORRISVILLE, Dec. 10—Ronald Mead, 6, was struck and critically injured yesterday afternoon by an automobile as he was returning to his studies at the William E. Case school. He was crossing Pennsylvania avenue.

Ronald is the son of Mrs. Dorothy Mead, 310 Crown street. He was hurled six feet by the impact.

Edwin S. Rowland, Jr., of Cheltenham, listed by police as the driver of the car, took the unconscious boy to the office of Dr. James M. Klenk, 307 Pennsylvania avenue. Dr. Klenk immediately transported him to Mercer Hospital, where physicians said he suffered a possible fractured skull and bruises of the face and head.

Ronald, a pupil in Miss Helen Pennington's first grade class, still was unconscious early today.

Rowland told Police Chief John S. Davis the boy walked into the path of his automobile. Davis said no charges were placed against the driver.

Ronald won the juvenile fishing contest in Morrisville last May when he caught the largest edible fish in the borough. He was awarded a trophy, rod, reel and line.

"Open House" is To Be

HILLTOWN, Dec. 10 — "Open house" will be observed at the new parsonage of St. Peter's Lutheran Church here tomorrow. The pastor, the Rev. Leroy Bond, and Mrs. Bond will entertain from two to five and from seven to nine o'clock.

The parsonage was completed during the summer at a cost of $22,000. It consists of eight rooms, bath, breezeway and garage. It is located on a lot 100x400.

The parsonage became a necessity more than a year ago, when St. Peter's and St. Andrew's congregations, which for many years constituted one parish, decided to separate.

LOW TEMPERATURES AND SNOW PREDICTED
FOR WEEK-END BY THE WEATHERMAN

By International News Service
Button up your overcoat became more than a song title across Pennsylvania today as Jack Frost huffed and puffed to put the skids under the mercury.

From one end of the state to the other, it was strictly "red flannel" weather.

And with chattering teeth, the weatherman said that the subfreezing temperatures giving the shakes to Pennsylvania's 10-million residents is only half the story.

Baby, in addition to being cold outside, Mr. Weatherman predicted light snow followed by freezing rain would sprinkle the Eastern Pennsylvania area.

In Western Pennsylvania, some snow also was forecast. In fact, much of the eastern seaboard may be blanketed by the silvery stuff over the week-end.

The usual caution warnings to motorists went out from state police and county motor clubs.

Most highways were reported clear, but some secondary roads probably are icy and dangerous for driving, according to state police.

The mercury tumbled below the 15 degree mark in the Scranton area during the night and plunged similarly, give or take a shiver or

FUNERAL ON TUESDAY

TULLYTOWN, Dec. 10 — Two weeks after he sustained injuries at his employment, Henry B. Clay, 59, president of Tullytown school board, was claimed by death last evening in Mercer Hospital, Trenton, N. J.

Mr. Clay, husband of Theresa C. Clay, and an employee of the Warner Company, was engineer of the tugboat "Taurus." He was, on November 25th, according to members of his family, in the act of getting off the tug boat, which had been operating in the Delaware River, when he either slipped or fell while on the steep bank, and hurtled into the water. RAINFALL FOR THREE MONTHS FAIRLY LOW

Precipitation This Fall About Half That During
1947 Period

WELLS BEING DRILLED

With water as the crying need at the present time for several of the eastern states, a survey of rainfall figures during the past several years in this area proves interesting.

A comparison is made of precipitation in the Bristol area for the months of September, October and November for seven years. Although the rainfall for the three months in question this year is 6.87 inches, and compares favorably with the same three months last year, 6.53 inches, the amount of rainfall is far less than during 1945 and 1947, but about twice that of 1946.

A comparison shows:

	1945	1946	1947	1948	1949
Sept.	2.49	.93	3.07	1.19	3.26
Oct.	2.57	1.49	2.36	1.46	2.49
Nov.	4.29	1.15	5.96	3.88	1.21

Total .. 9.26 3.58 11.29 6.53 6.87

Going back further—to 1944—figures from Rohm & Haas Co. physics laboratory show that for the same three months the precipitation was 14.46 inches, and for 1943, 9.39 inches.

In a number of instances throughout Bucks County residents have been forced to carry water for cattle and household use for several weeks; still others have had artesian wells drilled to replace dug wells; and countless ones who have had sufficient water for needs are attempting to conserve it so that the shortage will not become acute.

Committee in charge included: Chairman, Mrs. Frank Bonner; Mrs. Robert Sutton, Mrs. J. Vanzant, Sr., Mrs. Russell Vandegrift, Mrs. A. Conrad, Mrs. Emma Wolvin, Mrs. Roy Carter, Mrs. Gordon Gilbert, Mrs. E. Moore, and Mrs. Edgar Finney.

THE CRY FOR PEACE

In the midst of the season when men are voicing the age-old plea for peace on earth, there is no peace. Instead the world is still struggling to pick up the tag ends of civilization all but destroyed by war.

Eight years have passed since Pearl Harbor, nearly five years since the German surrender. Yet no peace treaty has been signed with either country, and none is in prospect.

Austria has not been given back its independence, as promised by Russia. Treaties have been written for Finland, Rumania, Hungary, Bulgaria and Italy, and all have been attacked and held up on one pretense or another.

Instead of peace there is war, nonetheless dangerous because there is no armed conflict. There are two governments in Germany, working at cross purposes, and a once great power remains helpless under military domination.

No attempts have been made to reach a peace agreement with Japan, although General MacArthur has said the Japanese people are ready for peace. When peace does come to Japan it will be largely of a military character.

Much, if not all, of this can be laid at the doorstep of Moscow. But it is those who aided in creating the Russian monster and fell into Stalin's trap who are, in the final analysis, to blame for the mess in which the world finds itself. Had the Russian menace been recognized by those whose duty it was to recognize it, the Bolshevik Terror would not be a global menace today.

BEATING GRANDPA'S TIME
Much emphasis has been put on the claim that in grandfather's day men were better. The inference is that in contrast to his generation present-day men are only a bunch of sissies. Many of these claims of physical prowess came from grandfather himself, and there was no one around who could dispute him.

Not that the old boy wasn't quite a chap, physically and otherwise, and endured many hardships from which his grandsons are spared. But the claim that he was a better man than his grandsons cannot be substantiated.

In an Iowa community a citizen boasted that his grandfather carried a 70-pound sack of wheat to mill, a distance of 9.2 miles, in one hour and 55 minutes, and expressed doubt that the modern youth could duplicate the feat. His claim was challenged by 10 young men of the community, five of whom completed the trip. The winner beat grandfather's time by 19 minutes, and finished strong.

It is not true this is a decadent age, physically or morally. Young men of today are splendid specimens of physical prowess. They may be spared many of the hard tasks of grandfather's time. But whatever the call for physical strength and endurance, either in peace or war, they are equal to it.

BRISTOL HIGH IN FIRST GAME GOES DOWN TO DEFEAT

A high-scoring Reading Central Catholic High contingent registered its fourth straight triumph last night as it trounced Bristol High, 60-41, on the local court. It was also the fourth time that Reading Central Catholic scored 60 or more points in a game.

Leading the invaders in the scoring column was little "Mike" DePaul, junior forward, who racked up nine double-doubles and five out of seven fouls for 23 points. These points brought his total of the season to 71.

It was Bristol's opening game and despite its defeat, the Warriors were impressive. Only inaccuracy in shooting prevented the Bristol score from mounting. The Warriors controlled the boards and had more shots at the nets but in passing and hooping the shots, the Reading team excelled.

"Frankie" Rich was the only consistent scorer in the lineup of Coach Jerry Bloom. Rich cut the cords for eight twin-counters and three fouls for 19 of the 41 points. Joe Pinder had seven points while Frank Barbetta made six.

The Reading Central Catholic lads, coached by Joey Schauf, former Penn University court star, jumped into an early lead and scored twelve points before Rich dropped in a foul shot to make the count, 12-1. Four minutes of play elapsed before Rich made his first throw. It was fully five minutes before Rich made the first two-point shot. The score then stood at 16-4. By the time the half-time whistle sounded, the visiting team had a 16-point edge, 30-14. Bristol at one time had closed the gap to a 19-12 score.

The visitors maintained their large margin as the third period got under way. Bristol tried a pressing defense but the Reading lads were dead shots and nothing seemed to stop them. The end of the third period found Reading still 16 points in front, 45-29.

Two fast field goals by DePaul increased the lead to 49-29 and that clinched the matter as Bristol's defense failed to stop the Cardinals from scoring. "Reds" Condit, substitute guard, scored the final three points for Bristol.

LUCENTI'S SHOT WINS OPENER FOR JAYVEES

A one-handed shot by "Frankie" Lucenti gave the Bristol High Jayvees a "story-book finish" victory over Reading Central Catholic High Jayvees last night in the preliminary game on the high school floor.

The score was deadlocked at 46-46 with three seconds remaining to be played. Bristol had the ball on a throw-in. Andy Accardi whipped the ball to Lucenti who made a left-handed shot towards the net just as the buzzer sounded, ending the game. The ball went through the hoop for the field goal which gave Bristol the 48-46 win.

Coach Harry McClister's team had to fight an uphill battle to capture the game as Reading Central built up a 23-12 margin at half-time. It wasn't until mid-way in the third session that Bristol got into the ball game. With three minutes left to play in this quarter, Lucenti put Bristol into the lead with a double-decker, 27-25. But Connolly dropped in a pair of fouls to even it at 27-27.

"Bill" Orth and Lucenti accounted for two-pointers and Orth's fielder put Reading ahead at the end of the session, 31-29.

Earlier in the final period, Central Catholic increased its margin to 40-34 and later it went to 45-30. But Bristol wasn't beaten. Lucenti scored from the side and Shlavo made a free shot, making the count, 46-42. Andy Accardi hit the cords for two points and when "Charlie" Brady scored on a set shot, the count was tied at 46-46. Accardi missed a foul and then made his pass to Lucenti which he copped the victory.

Lucenti was hit for the winning aggregation with 21 points with Accardi getting 14. "Johnny" Connolly and Orth had 14 points each for the visiting team. Orth scored 8 out of 10 fouls while Connolly had four fouls. Reading Central had a nice average from the foul line, sinking 20 out of 25.

The addresses given on various letters show that Santa—the Spirit of Christmas—is almost everywhere, therefore everywhere. Some missives are addressed to him at the "North Pole," others "Santa Land," and still others "In the Arctic."

The letter written by the Hulmeville boy mentioned previously, written without any help from his parents, was received by Santa through Hulmeville post office. Santa reveals the contents of the note:

"Dear Santa:

"I want you to know that you are very good to all the children. You help children that are sad to be happy.

"What I want you to bring me for Christmas—2 wheel bike, jg saw, movie camera, gas station, Lincoln train (small or big) a book, cars.

"I wish I could give you all the money for this, but I don't have it. But I can say that I love you very, very much."

Natal Base is of Vital Import to W. Hemisphere

tary airport.

It is only 1,500 miles from Natal across the southern Atlantic into the once booming French West African base of Dakar. Today, even though the U. S. is concentrating on the polar concept, its allies abroad—specifically France and England—are giving more and more thought to a defense in depth concept which emphasizes Africa.

The Natal route is the shortest from the U. S. to Africa should acute trouble ever again threaten. Natal represents still another vital jumping off point: From it, American flyers can get to Saudi Arabia, Persia, India and the Far East without being exposed to enemy interception on the European-Mediterranean run.

Brazil has taken the maintenance of the Natal installation with deadly seriousness. Ultimately, the Brazil air force expects to have a first class radar net and squadrons of sea-search and air-sea rescue craft based here. As it is, most of the medium bombardment strength of the air force is already stationed at Natal and the annual military air maneuvers of this country are staged here.

With increasing range of patrol aircraft, it is not unlikely that convoys of any future struggle will be protected by planes of both nations operating from this northern Brazil base.

In this connection, Brazil has taken particular cognizance of the submarine force being amassed by the only possible foe to world peace her leaders can envision. Natal is being groomed to be the number one sub-hunting base of the South Atlantic if and when.

To give impetus to the maintenance and the further development of this base, the U. S. has lent technicians of every type who are working with the Brazilians toward the common goal of having a strong air installation atop the South Atlantic routes.

Specialists in communications navigation, weather, operations and even in the drilling of new water supplies are constantly in and out of Natal spurring on the task of keeping this base a formidable Latin-American stronghold against that outside chance.
